
READING MAGAZINES: NEWSFLASH!

News update ... The Green Warriors, environmental crusaders, have stormed the Houses of Parliament and attacked many members of parliament, throwing vegetables and eggs at them... They are also threatening to blow up any businesses who do not recycle all their paper ... the whole city of London has come to a complete standstill the business community is in uproar ... the Police are attempting to control the situation through persuasion... The Green Warriors claim they will not budge until their demands for a more environmentally friendly world are met ... They are demanding to meet with the world's top scientists to discuss ways forward ..

News update ... The Green Warriors, environmental crusaders, have stormed the Houses of Parliament and attacked many members of parliament, throwing vegetables and eggs at them... They are also threatening to blow up any businesses who do not recycle all their paper ... the whole city of London has come to a complete standstill the business community is in uproar ... the Police are attempting to control the situation through persuasion... The Green Warriors claim they will not budge until their demands for a more environmentally friendly world are met ... They are demanding to meet with the world's top scientists to discuss ways forward ..

News update ... The Green Warriors, environmental crusaders, have stormed the Houses of Parliament and attacked many members of parliament, throwing vegetables and eggs at them... They are also threatening to blow up any businesses who do not recycle all their paper ... the whole city of London has come to a complete standstill the business community is in uproar ... the Police are attempting to control the situation through persuasion... The Green Warriors claim they will not budge until their demands for a more environmentally friendly world are met ... They are demanding to meet with the world's top scientists to discuss ways forward ..

News update ... The Green Warriors, environmental crusaders, have stormed the Houses of Parliament and attacked many members of parliament, throwing vegetables and eggs at them... They are also threatening to blow up any businesses who do not recycle all their paper ... the whole city of London has come to a complete standstill the business community is in uproar ... the Police are attempting to control the situation through persuasion... The Green Warriors claim they will not budge until their demands for a more environmentally friendly world are met ... They are demanding to meet with the world's top scientists to discuss ways forward ..

News update ... The Green Warriors, environmental crusaders, have stormed the Houses of Parliament and attacked many members of parliament, throwing vegetables and eggs at them... They are also threatening to blow up any businesses who do not recycle all their paper ... the whole city of London has come to a complete standstill the business community is in uproar ... the Police are attempting to control the situation through persuasion... The Green Warriors claim they will not budge until their demands for a more environmentally friendly world are met ... They are demanding to meet with the world's top scientists to discuss ways forward ..

NEWS UPDATE ... No-Roadies, environmental crusaders ... have formed a protest outside Oldbury ... They are living in trees and tunnels to stop the work going ahead...They have attacked many of the builders of the new road with their bare hands and feet ... the whole neighbouring area of Berkshire has come to a standstill because of the demonstration ... lorries with vital supplies for the local hospital are not able to get through ... the Police are concerned for Public Safety and are preparing to disperse the protestors ... The No-Roadies hold banners which proclaim "No more new Roads in Oldbury" ... They demand that the proposed new road is banned because of more pollution and traffic to local house-holders Top scientists have been called in to see if they can solve the problem ...

NEWS UPDATE ... No-Roadies, environmental crusaders ... have formed a protest outside Oldbury ... They are living in trees and tunnels to stop the work going ahead...They have attacked many of the builders of the new road with their bare hands and feet ... the whole neighbouring area of Berkshire has come to a standstill because of the demonstration ... lorries with vital supplies for the local hospital are not able to get through ... the Police are concerned for Public Safety and are preparing to disperse the protestors ... The No-Roadies hold banners which proclaim "No more new Roads in Oldbury" ... They demand that the proposed new road is banned because of more pollution and traffic to local house-holders Top scientists have been called in to see if they can solve the problem ...

NEWS UPDATE ... No-Roadies, environmental crusaders ... have formed a protest outside Oldbury ... They are living in trees and tunnels to stop the work going ahead...They have attacked many of the builders of the new road with their bare hands and feet ... the whole neighbouring area of Berkshire has come to a standstill because of the demonstration ... lorries with vital supplies for the local hospital are not able to get through ... the Police are concerned for Public Safety and are preparing to disperse the protestors ... The No-Roadies hold banners which proclaim "No more new Roads in Oldbury" ... They demand that the proposed new road is banned because of more pollution and traffic to local house-holders Top scientists have been called in to see if they can solve the problem ...

NEWS UPDATE ... No-Roadies, environmental crusaders ... have formed a protest outside Oldbury ... They are living in trees and tunnels to stop the work going ahead...They have attacked many of the builders of the new road with their bare hands and feet ... the whole neighbouring area of Berkshire has come to a standstill because of the demonstration ... lorries with vital supplies for the local hospital are not able to get through ... the Police are concerned for Public Safety and are preparing to disperse the protestors ... The No-Roadies hold banners which proclaim "No more new Roads in Oldbury" ... They demand that the proposed new road is banned because of more pollution and traffic to local house-holders Top scientists have been called in to see if they can solve the problem ...

NEWS UPDATE ... No-Roadies, environmental crusaders ... have formed a protest outside Oldbury ... They are living in trees and tunnels to stop the work going ahead...They have attacked many of the builders of the new road with their bare hands and feet ... the whole neighbouring area of Berkshire has come to a standstill because of the demonstration ... lorries with vital supplies for the local hospital are not able to get through ... the Police are concerned for Public Safety and are preparing to disperse the protestors ... The No-Roadies hold banners which proclaim "No more new Roads in Oldbury" ... They demand that the proposed new road is banned because of more pollution and traffic to local house-holders Top scientists have been called in to see if they can solve the problem ...